Dance Space OMYT Brings the Site-Specific Performance “Prophecies of Migratory Birds” to the “Tochka Cuire” Festival

On October 23 at 19:00, in the Red Hall of CSI “Byl” (Stary Oskol, Zhukova microdistrict 38), the “Tochka Cuire” contemporary art festival hosts the performance “Prophecies of Migratory Birds” — featuring Dance Space OMYT (Saint Petersburg). Choreographer — Nadezhda Kokhanova, concept and producer — Misha Kazmiruk. Running time — about 45 minutes.

ABOUT THE PERFORMANCE

The performance was created for “The Alexandrinsky in Alexandria. Theatre Saturday” — a festive programme marking the 200th anniversary of Alexandria Park at the Peterhof State Museum-Reserve. It premiered on July 11, 2026, in the garden of the Farm Palace in Alexandria Park.

The piece draws inspiration from the birds that return to Alexandria Park every summer to nest. Eight performers in animalistic costumes of different bird species present a choreographic score built from the language of contemporary dance and close behavioural observation. Audience members are given opera glasses — a gesture referencing courtly traditions of observation, while inviting a close look at the fragile poetics of movement.

The sound environment was created by Ilya Pucheglazov, curator of the electronic music programmes at the New Stage of the Alexandrinsky Theatre — at the intersection of acoustic textures and electronic pulses, with live instruments.

Nadezhda Kokhanova is a choreographer and director. At “Tochka Cuire” she also presents the production “The Rashomon Effect” and the physical-theatre sketch “The Scent of Rose Oil”.
